

A portrait of two individuals, a man and a woman, smiling. The man is on the left, wearing a light blue button-down shirt. The woman is on the right, with long brown hair, wearing a dark top.

Joshua Graff Zivin

Professor of Economics, IR/PS

Jennifer Burney

Assistant Professor, IR/PS

PDEL Innovation Research Workshop

The Policy Design and Evaluation Lab (PDEL) welcomes School of International Relations and Pacific Studies professors Joshua Graff Zivin and Jennifer Burney to discuss their research on measuring and understanding the impacts of pollution on human health, labor productivity and agricultural yields.

Experts in their field, Burney will discuss new methodologies for estimating pollutant concentrations and exposures, and Graff Zivin will discuss recent insights into the pervasive impacts of air pollution.

Please register at: pdel-innovation-workshop.eventbrite.com

PDEL

Policy Design and Evaluation Lab

Dec. 1, 2014 | 3:30 – 5:30 p.m.

Supercomputer Center auditorium,
UC San Diego

